Arvin Mitchell Biography

Arvin Mitchell has hit the comedy scene running since his debut on BET's Coming to the Stage in 2003. Mitchell's runner-up status on the comedy reality show turned him into a household name with audiences both young and not so young. His clean comedic style along with his hilarious impressions have made him a hit for the college circuit and corporate engagements that include the Kentucky Derby Grand Gala Reception, the St. Louis Premiere of The Longest Yard, and the Marshall Faulk Charity Extravaganza. Arvin has also starred in two gospel hit plays, A House Divided (Fox Theater- STL, Norfolk, Peoria) and If They Only Knew (Wichita, Oklahoma City).

As the former bartender and co-host of BET's Club Comic View and host of Spring Bling 21 Questions, Arvin has attracted fans in the U.S. and abroad. His television appearances have helped him become one of the hottest comedians on the college circuit. From hosting step shows and charity events to headlining comedy shows, Arvin has set a blazing trail performing at colleges across the country. In addition, Arvin has spread laughter to the troops in Stuttgart, Germany.

Arvin continues to hone his craft by working the comedy club circuit including "A" and "B" rooms in New York and Los Angeles that include Comic Strip Live, Boston Comedy Club, Irvine Improv Room, The Laugh Factory, and The Comedy Store. He participated in the Las Vegas Comedy Festival and showcased for a final audition for the Just For Laughs Montreal Comedy Festival. His comedic style appeals to both urban and mainstream audiences worldwide.
